The Truth about the Campbell issues

I was hoping Joey wouldn't force me to reveal the truth behind my issues with Ms Campbell.

Debbie's husband Bill is extremely sick with Hepatitis C and has been getting treatments in Washington for an extended period of time as his liver is not in good shape. I had asked Ms Campbell why would she want to run for council again when her husband is seriously ill and her son Billy is home schooled, when she claimed she didn't have enough time to do all the things she wanted. I thought and gave her my opinion that her family should come first with him being so sick but she did not like my questioning her and that's when she decided I was expendable and has done all she could to discredit me and all the information I knew about her, hence the mention in the letter to her parents about the disagreement. Facts are facts Debbie and Joey, got to put them out there if this is the way you want to play.
